1. In planning for the out-year budgets which include all kinds of support to personnel, i.e., polygraph, medical services, logistics and space, you ought to bear in mind some guidance that we are working with. As you are aware, FY '83 positions total [redacted] above our '82 figure. By 1984 this number will be [redacted] by '85, [redacted] by '86, [redacted] and '87, [redacted]. This is an overall increase, '83 through '87, of [redacted] over the '82 level of [redacted].

2. In addition to all of this, the DCI has proposed a program which the President has given his endorsement to which would increase the intelligence capabilities even further. Under the "1985 Intelligence Capabilities Study," CIA would obtain, in rough estimates, an additional [redacted] positions in FY '84, another [redacted] in '85, another [redacted] in '86, and [redacted] in '87--for a total during the '84-'87 time period of [redacted].

3. While real world demands at the time may suggest considerable reduction in these numbers, the game plan at the moment suggests an increase in CIA of [redacted] above our present [redacted].
